

We do not need a one company monopoly in any business, but especially in our multimedia sector. There is too much censorship as it is with news and what is allowed to be broadcast to the public. Deregulation will and change in the rules will only make matters worse. Carol Falde